BEAUTIFUL THINGS.

Beautiful feet are those that wear—It matters little if dark or fair—Whole-souled honesty printed there.

Beautiful eyes are those that show—Like crystal pans where heart-fire glows, Beautiful thoughts that burn below.

Beautiful lips are those whose words Leap from the heart like songs of birds, Yet whose utterance produces gods.

Beautiful hands are those that do Work that is earnest, brave and true, Moment by moment the long day through.

Beautiful feet are those that go On kindly industries to and fro—Down the long ways, if God will it so.

Beautiful shoulders are those that bear Ceaseless burdens of honest care, With patient grace and daily prayer.

Beautiful hair are those that keep Silent rivers of happiness, Whose fountains never dry away.

Beautiful twilight, at set of sail, Beautiful dawn, with rose and gold, Beautiful rest, with work well done.

Beautiful paths, where peace is deep, Where weary hearts find sweet repose, Over worn-out hands—oh, beautiful sleep!

—Elihu P. Allerton.

Society Items.

Bright colors are not considered on regie in gentlemen's noses. Miss Bridget McLaughlin has accepted a cullinary position in the house of Mrs. Brown. Among the newest thing in stockings is the baby's foot.
Charley Homer has sold this double-bladed knife to Dave Wilkins.
Miss Margaret Seely has relinquished her position as maid-of-all-work in the family of Deacon Jones. We are pleased to learn that Tompkins has consented to remain with Messrs Tweedle and Doudlewick; Tompkins is the favorite cash-boy in the establishment, and it would have been difficult to supply his place had he insisted upon retiring. Rumor has it that the beautiful poem in The Weekly Gusher, beginning, "At night the katydid sings to the sun that is hid," is from the graceful pen of the charming Miss Adellehead. On dit that Betsy Benner is soon to be led to the altar by one of the hands at the gas factory. We are in a position to state positively that Mrs. Thomas' baby is not teething; it has only colic. John Bourbon is recovering from his recent severe attack of delirium tremens.
There was a pleasant little marble party in Joe Baxter's back yard last Saturday afternoon; it was entirely informal; peanuts were the only refreshments served. Barry Blanks left for the Canadas quite unexpectedly yesterday morning; the amount has not yet been ascertained. Billy Bracket had a candy scrape at his father's residence Thursday evening; in the unexpected phraseology of one of the young men present, they had a boss time. Johnny Belcher has not been able to attend to his duties as errand-boy at the saw mill on account of a sore heel. Mrs.
Fluffy's new switch is a splendid match for her beautiful bay tresses. The McGillcuddy's have just returned from Cork, Europe. They were the life of the steamer during the voyage.—[Boston Transcript.

A bill before Congress provides for the making of a postal card with a flexible flap, which shall conceal the writing on the face of the card. This is positive cruelty to a large number of people—including country postmasters—whose whole source of information, aside from current gossip, are postal cards that have been addressed to their neighbors. Still, the few must suffer for the many, and it is a lamentable fact that a large majority of correspondents prefer that their postal cards shall be read only by the persons to whom they are addressed.
It is also true that one cent postage can be made far more useful to the public and yet be no more costly to the government than it now is. A small sheet of paper weighing no more than a postal card can be cut in a shape that admits of folding and sealing, and if the government would supply such a sheet at the same price as the card, the income of the department would be as great as now and the expense no greater. As the postal service is for the public accommodation, and not for public revenue, every possible increase of facilities for correspondence should be granted.— [N. Y. Herald.

A colored preacher of western Ohio thus holds forth: "I delight to observe these new laws against adulteration. Dere's mos too much ob dis yere ting goin' on. Ef a man can't keep de sechtn commandment ob de Lord, den I say let's hang him up by de neck till he stops it—dat's all."

Verboosity.

Young newspaper reporters and writers usually have a good deal of "overflow"—some of so much that they seem to think the main object of writing is to fill up space. They make a paragraph out of a squib, and a page out of an item. The New Haven Register thus caricatures one green hand:

Young Fitznoodle has just entered journalistic life, and is going to "cut a swath." He believes in putting in a good deal of "color" in his items, and prides himself on his work. He sharpened a couple of pencils at both ends, this morning, and began:

We regret to inform our readers that the estimable Miss Jones, of Jonesboro, daughter of Congressman Jones, and grand-daughter of the well-known founder of the village of Jonesboro, has met with a fearful accident.
"As she was driving along the boulevard at the speed of the wind, the horse, a half-brother of Maud S., and full sister of St. Julien, became suddenly startled by the uprising of a covey of partridges, which are unusually numerous in that section, this season, and, promising a great deal of fun for the sportsmen, when the law is off —and as they circled, the frightened steed tore down the avenue like mad, until stopped by the gallant hand of Officer 63, of the Ninth Ward.

"Her injuries were a contusion of the ankle, which did not amount to a fracture; and the unfortunate girl was carried home to her grief-stricken parents and sympathizing friends." The city editor at this point was anxious for copy, and glancing it over rapidly, crumpled it in his hand, remarking: "Fitzzy, you have piled up the words, haven't you. You've given all your fancy painted. Good boy!
But remember, this department is the domain of fact." He then scribbled:
"The daughter of Congressman Jones was run away with by a spirited horse, on the avenue, yesterday afternoon. Injuries nominal."

The Pronunciation of "U."

Ninety-nine out of every hundred Northerners will say institoot instead of institute, dooty for duty—a perfect rhyme to the word beauty. They will call new and news, noo, noos—and so on through the dozens and hundreds of similar words. Not a dictionary in the English language authorizes this. In student and stupid, the "u" has the same sound as in cupid, and should not be pronounced stooudent and stooupid, as so many teachers are in the habit of sounding them.

It is a vulgarism to call a door a doah—as we all admit—isn't it as much of a vulgarism to call a newspaper a noospaper? One vulgarism is Northern, and the other is Southern, that's the only difference. When the London Punch wishes to burlesque the pronunciation of servants, it makes them call the duke the dook, the tutor the tootor, and a tube a toob. You never find the best Northern speakers, such as Wendell Phillips, George William Curtis, Emerson, Holmes, and men of that class, saying noo for new, Toosday for Tuesday, avenoo for avenue, or calling a dupe a doop. It is a fault that a Southerner never falls into. He has slips enough of another kind, but he doesn't slip on the long "u." As many of our teachers have never had their attention called to this, I hope they will excuse this notice.—[Southern Letter.

The statistics of book publication in the United States last year present some curious facts. There were published in this country during the year just closed 2,991 books, an increase of 915 over the previous year. In Great Britain there was a falling off of 300 volumes, which is a significant fact, in view of the development of the trade here. The increase of 915 was made up—200 in works of fiction, 100 in juvenile books, 100 in theology, 71 in books of reference, 75 in biography and history, 60 in poetry, 60 in travel, 80 in medical works, and the balance in works of general character. The enormous increase in works of fiction is due to the cheap reprints of foreign novels.—[N. Y. Herald.

In 1870 the census showed that Kentucky had a Chinese population of 1. The census of 1880 shows that it was then 10. This is an increase of one thousand per cent., and is a very alarming fact. If it goes on in the same ratio we shall have 100 in 1890, 1,000 in 1900, and 1,000,000 in 1930.
The boy who was kept after school for bad orthography said he was spell

Drinking on Two Legs.

He was haggard, careworn, and sore of foot. The dust of the Queen City was hanging in graceful festoons upon his eyebrows and wildly dissheveled hair. He had been chasing a Third-avenue car for fourteen blocks, but the conductor was rhapsodically gazing in the eyes of a bewitching little nurse girl, whose infantile charge was cutting teeth upon the bell-punch, and had not discovered that he was followed, and his exhausted pursuer dragged himself all limp and weary into the Burnet House bar, and called for a little bit of sugar, and a little bit of lemon, with just a squeeze of whisky to give it a flavor you know. We said limp. Yes, very limp, for this unfortunate citizen was the possessor of a right leg that was full six inches shorter than his left. Sinking upon the shortened limb, his head barely appeared above the bar when he gave the white aproned attendant, his order. The stimulant was mixed, and the com-pounder of lemon-juice and Bourbon was about to turn to make a deposit of the exhilarating beverage before the thirsty inquirer, when the latter arose upon the elongated limb, and to the surprise of the barkeeper, he found a six-foot man confronting him.

"Where did that other fellow go?" asked the astonished waiter.

"What fellow?" asked the unfortunate possessor of the shortened limb.

"Why, that insignificant little son of a gun that called for whisky and sugar?"

The citizen sank back on the game leg overcome with mortification, while the barkeeper struck an attitude that would have surprised Madam Tas-saud's man of wax. At the conclusion of the tableau the twain drank at the expense of the house, and the curtain was rung down to slow music and red fire.—[Cincinnati Gazette.

Satisfying the Majesty of the Law.

There is a Justice of the Peace out in Crosby county. Week before last he found a man guilty of shooting a bull that did not belong to him, and fined him $75. "Why, Judge," said the doomed man, "I haven't got no $75; I can't pay no such fine." The State of Texas puts me in this office to find out a way to make men pay their fines. You will cut cedar poles until you have cut enough to satisfy the majesty of the law," replied the Justice. "But, Judge, what use has the State of Texas for cedar poles?" "The State of Texas hasn't got no use for cedar poles. It's this court who needs them cedar poles to build a fence. I'll take the poles, and settle with the State of Texas for them." And the poor devil is cutting cedar poles for the State of Texas now.—[Texas

THE SAFEST SEAT.—A correspondent writes to us to know which, in our judgment, is the safest seat in case of a railroad collision, as he wishes to settle a controversy with some friends.
From a long and painful study in this matter, and calling to our aid a ripe experience, we would say, without fear of successful denial, that the safest seat in case of a railroad collision is the top rail of a reliable fence about four miles in a northeasterly direction from the collision.—[Lar-mie Boomerang.

The epithet, "turn-out," had its origin in Saxony. The dominions of the Duke of Saxony being between France and Saxony, one of the early Dukes hit upon the device of a coat of blue on one side and white on the other. When he wished to be thought in the Spanish interest, he wore the blue outside; when he wished to be considered on the side of the French, he wore the white on the outside.
From this he was called "Emanuel Turncoat."

A lady writer finds fault with the manners of the King of Sweden, because his Majesty scratched his royal people are entirely too fastidious.

Would the lady have had his Majeschair?—[Somerville Journal.

Among the epitaphs in a churchyard in England is one over a tavernkeeper, in which the pious glimmers but dimly amidst the suggestions of an eye to the main chance.

"Beneath this stone, in hope of Zion, Lies the head of the 'Lion,' His son keeps on the business still, Rejoice! unto the Heavenly will."

Parlor Cattle Cars.

A trial trip to Plainville, N. J., and return was made with stock cars, for which it is claimed that they secure immunity from crowding and trampling, shorten the time of transit, and deliver the animals in better condition than the ordinary cattle cars.
The cars are filled with sliding partitions, so arranged as to give each animal a separate stall, and with improved appliances for feeding and watering. A new automatic brake, applied through the bumpers by reversing the engine, was also tested. It stopped the train of fourteen cars in 200 feet in eighteen seconds, being applied when the train was running at fair speed. A party of about 150 gentlemen interested in the subject of transporting live cattle witnessed the trial.—[New York Sun.

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR.—These are best let alone. Shaving only increases the growth and depilatories are dangerous and sometimes disfigure the face. The only sure plan is to spread on a piece of leather equal parts of gobarium and pitch plaster, lay it on the hair as smoothly as possible; let it remain there three or four minutes, then remove it with the hair, root and branch. This is severe but effective.

This Superior Court bill, which has passed the Senate, provides that the Clerk of the Court of Appeals shall also be clerk of that court. This has been the bone of contention for some time, and now that it has been partially removed it is presumed that the bill will go through and become a law. We can't see how the court will assist the Court of Appeals to much extent, since cases can be appealed from it to that court. The effect will be to give persons against whom a judgment is assessed a longer time to secure his creditors. The bill establishing the Superior Court, shows considerable ingenuity. The constitution provides that there can be but one court of final jurisdiction in Kentucky, hence the right to appeal from it and a further clause giving it some original jurisdiction. That original jurisdiction is confined only to escheats, and as a case of this kind does not occur in a score of years, its business in that direction will not be heavy. It looks very much like the Superior Court is to be established more with a view of creating more officers for the army of seekers than it is to relieve the Court of Appeals.

We very much fear that the so-called investigation of the disgraceful abuse of the pardoning power by Gov. Blackburn will amount to very little more than an attempt to whitewash him. A great many members are exceedingly proud of any little attention shown them by a Governor, albeit that Governor is worthy of no consideration. It is one of the characteristics of the small mind to look up to a man in high position, and to feel that he is much nearer the divine than common people, and the number of small minds largely predominates in our Legislature. Besides there are many that are seeking favors for friends or clients at the hands of the Governor, and it wouldn't do to incur his anger by voting to censure him as he so well deserves. We do trust that the investigation may be full and complete, and that the Executive may be shown up in his own proper light.

The apportionment committee are going to put their foot in it so sure as they attempt to make eleven democratic districts in this State. It can't be done, therefore it would be a great deal better to let them remain as at present. We have got nine sure, and if one is elected for the state at large, we have him by fully 50,000. Then Mat Adams can beat White in a fair race in his district, and we shall again have an unbroken delegation. Should the 8th be made of the counties that are proposed, it will be republican by 300 majority, and no democrat unless he has a mint of money will make the race. We hope that the hundreds of protests that have gone up from this portion of the country will bring the committee to its senses, and that it will decide to let well enough alone and leave the districts as are.

NOTWITHSTANDING the surplus revenue is now $120,000,000 a year, the republicans have in caucus decided to vote down all proposals for a reduction of the tax on whisky and tobacco, so the sub-committee of the Ways and Means, labors go for naught. That committee has prepared a report, reducing the tax on whisky to fifty cents, tobacco to ten cents, and a reduction of about fifty per cent. in the special taxes now imposed on dealers in the articles mentioned.

EX-REY. L. D. PARKER, now the republican representative of Pulaski county in the Legislature, says that newspapers are the greatest humbug of the nineteenth century. We agree with brother Parker. A married man can't even run off and have a good time with a charming little lassie, but what some ill-mannered newspaper must publish it to the world. They are a nuisance, and Governor Blackburn ought to have the last one in this country and Europe suppressed.

THE Columbia Spectator, printed at the home of Gen. Frank Wolford, hoists his name for Governor, and it is presumed that it is but a reflection of the old hero's wishes. The office of Governor is too poor a one for Wolford. Let's give him something that will assist him in his old age and make his last his best days.

SENATOR SHERMAN has been exonerated by the committee appointed to investigate the Treasury expenditures. This is as was intended. The committee stood, seven republicans to two democrats.

SECRETARY OF STATE BLACKBURN allowed the correspondent of the Louisville Post to peep into those books of his the other day, but took good pains not to let him find out anything.

The Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee has been completed by the selection of the following Senators to act in concert with the committee: Messrs. Farney, of California; Harris, of Tennessee; Morgan, of Alabama; Davis, of West Virginia; Gorman, of Maryland; McPherson, of New Jersey, and Coke, of Texas. The Committee has elected Gen. Rosecrans Chairman, and it is likely that our own Phil Thompson will be made Secretary. The latter will be especially a good selection.

This New York Sun pronounces the appointment of Judge Blatchford to the Supreme Bench as one of the wisest acts the President could do. He has accepted and will no doubt be confirmed at once.

LEGISLATIVE.

The Supreme Court Bill has passed the Senate.

The apportionment bill is fixed for Tuesday next.

A bill to fine clerks $100 for failing to index certain cases, passed the Senate.

Senator Blair voted against the Superior Court bill. He believes like many others that it is a job.

A bill to allow the Trustees of the Standard Male and Female Seminary to sell a part of its lot, has passed the House.

A bill to repeal the law passed two years ago, which required hangings to be done in private is being debated and we trust will be passed.

A bill has passed to incorporate the town of Science Hill, in Pulaski. This is perhaps the smallest place ever described by the name of a town.

The bill to allow Circuit Clerks 20 per cent of the fines and forfeitures in Commonwealth cases, consumed the whole of Wednesday, without a vote being reached.

A bill chartering the Kentucky Transportation Company which is to build an underground railroad from First to Fourteenth Streets in Louisville, has passed the Legislature.

Resolutions to appoint a Committee to investigate the official conduct of A. G. Coruth, Commonwealth's Attorney, and Charles Godshaw, Trustee of the Jurg Fund, in the Louisville District, have been introduced in the House.

Senator Blair withdrew his resolution, introduced several days ago, to appropriate a sum sufficient ($100 it was thought) to repair the tomb and inclosure of Isaac Shelby, Kentucky's first Governor. Isaac Shelby, Jr., had written the Senator that the descendants of the Governor had themselves provided the means necessary for that purpose.

The old Governor will have to show up after all, and he might have saved himself much trouble had he done so at first. Mr. Breckinridge's resolution requesting the Secretary of the State to furnish a transcript of all pardons, respites and remissions of fines granted by Governor Blackburn, together with facts upon which such pardons, respites and remissions were granted, was passed by a vote of 41 to 34. Mr. Hansford voted against it again.

Senator Fogle, of Lebanon, is doing a good work in pressing the repeal of the unconstitutional tax for the A. and M. College. In a speech against the law, Tuesday, he intimated that the wine champagne, chicken salad and bone turkey spread by the people of Lexington had much to do with the tabling of the bill in the House, and he hoped that the effects of that banquet had sufficiently died out to enable those who participated, to look at the question through unclouded spectacles and in the true interest of the people.

"PRAISE THE LORD."

Before beginning on Paris, let me say a parting word about dear Bowling Green. I had passed the place in journeying again and again, and only seeing what meets the eye, and only seeing what meets the eye, so means they surroundings, I had said to myself again and again, "I should not like to live in Bowling Green."

And thus unconsciously tabling a prejudice, as so often one does, I went to Bowling Green, simply because the LORD called me to go, and as I have long since learned to go gladly and cheerfully at HIS call, even into the most unpleasant places, I went expecting nothing from the place itself. How little do we know! Bowling Green is one of the most charming places we have ever visited. A beautiful little city to begin with, handsomely built up and with an unusually refined and intelligent population. One blot, and that Kentucky's blot, mars the scene—WHISKY. It is drowned in that, wholesale and retail. Alas! The closing services of the meeting deserve special mention. The meeting for men only, on Tuesday night, was an impressive occasion. This was appointed, simply because in the ordinary services, the body of the church was filled with women, and the "men folks" had to do the best they could, which was a very poor "best" standing in the aisles, hovering around the doors, clinging to the window sills, squatting on the pulpit steps, and even gathering on the outside stairs and sidewalk. And all this with most exemplary patience and gentleness. As I determined they should have one comfortable hearing, at least, and Tuesday night turned all the good ladies out. To their honor, be it spoken, not one attempted to get in on the plausible plea of "just let me come"—and they remained at home like the good, obedient women they are. It was an unusual experience for me, to face that packed mass of bearded faces, with never a blinnet to break the uniformity. I must say, I missed the gentle faces that had so often encouraged me to plead for souls, but the sight was very impressive, of so many men, eager to hear the gospel. A blessed harvest of 61 souls crowned the service, making many hearts glad.

The last night was the best, though, so many lingerers came in, for whom anxious hearts were breaking, and weeping eyes were streaming, that it turned into a very jubilee of joy towards the last. It was nearly 11 o'clock when three rousing good cheers broke the quiet of the little city, with a sound of gladness that none of us can ever forget. One day we shall know it when the voice of shouting on the "Golden Shore" shall be like the "sound of many waters"—but it shall be the same old shout—PRAISE THE LORD—HALLELUJAH!

Will your readers think me a lunatic if I point out a few facts in the numbers of confessions for soul and body in the blessed Bowling Green meeting? If I can only persuade some soul longing to know more of God and HIS ways, to study this divine significance of numbers, I shall be glad, for the sake of such, to be called and thought a "crank," or "dreamy mystic" or "fanatic"—or any other devil's name, the "prince of darkness" manages to affix to the LORD's servants who give him trouble. 777, for soul and 421 for body. The three perfect numbers, strike even a careless observer. 3 and 7 are the LORDS numbers, especially. Notice here are 3 7's—making 21 or 3x7. 777 has in itself 7 hundreds, 7 tens, 7 units. A concentration of meaning, if there be any meaning in numbers at all. In 421 you have 4 plus 2 plus 1—7 again. Take the front two figures 42 and you have 6x7 or 3x3x7. Take the last two—21, and you have 3x7 again. All of which is a voice from heaven to me, bidding me "be of good cheer." If others hear it not, I do not reproach, I only say as did one of old, "They heard not the voice of HIM who spake to me." Yet if they listen they will hear. O what words of love are coming from heaven every day that find not listening ears, and return whence they come, only in fruitless echoes. It pains the heart to know this.

Paris is a good deal larger than the Paris I knew 12 years ago. Quite a village has been built across Huxton Creek, and the suburbs have spread in every direction. The new Court-house is a magnificent structure, erected at a cost of over $100,000. We have our services in its spacious Court-room—accommodating 1,000 under pressure, and seating 800. The vestibule can be seated for 200 or 300 more, when the weather is mild enough to open all the doors, which will be the case in a day or two. At present the room is crowded above and below every night, and the lower floor is well filled at the 3 P. M. service. I cannot give you results to the close of the 1st week in time for your Friday's issue, but will post you to date. In the 53 days already passed there were confessions as follows: Thursday night, none; Friday, day and night, none; Saturday afternoon two for soul and one for body; Saturday night, 1 for soul; Sunday morning, none; afternoon, children's meeting, 52; night, 3 for soul, 1 for body; Monday afternoon, none; night, 6 for soul; Tuesday afternoon, 2 for body; night, 1 for soul. Total, 65 for soul, and 4 for body. I have made one outside visit to the sick, and anointed one colored woman, desperately sick. We work along trustfully. One look at the "giants" would sink all courage. One look at JESUS fills the soul with bounding hope. So we don't look at giants at all—only at JESUS, and go on our way rejoicing. ALL WELL. PRAISE THE LORD. Ever in Jesus.

Track-laying on the Knoxville Branch R. R. beyond Livingston is progressing rapidly.

The K. C. engineers went up to Livingston Tuesday evening. They will make a few surveys in that neighborhood, after which the road will be located at Mt. Vernon.

On Tuesday the trial of James Bishop, A. J. Henderson and Wm. Hysinger, alleged murderers of Mary and Bessie Sigman was called before Judge McClure. The defendants were represented by the following array of counsel: Judge Geo. Denny, Jr., Col. W. O. Bradley, J. K. McClary, J. W. Brown, F. H. Reppert. The County Attorney was assisted by J. B. Fish and N. D. Wilcox. The Court-house was filled with people. The County Attorney announced that the Commonwealth was ready to proceed with the investigation. Col. Bradley then stated that the defense desired to use Judge McClure as a witness, and in view of this fact he presumed the Judge would not care to preside in the case. The County Attorney remarked that the air had been well changed for several days with a rumor that Judge McClure would be sworn off of the case, and he hoped the Judge would insist on an affidavit before he vacated the bench; that the prosecution were willing for Judge McClure to preside in the case even though he was a witness for the defense. Judge McClure then announced that if the defendants objected to his trying the case, they must file their affidavit and follow the course prescribed by law. The affidavit was at once made and presented. A new court was organized immediately, consisting of Squires A. J. Pike and H. D. Burnett. The County Attorney stated that he had no power to object to Squire Pike, but that relatives of the deceased preferred that he would not sit in the case. Squire Pike desired to withdraw from the case, but the defendants' attorneys insisted that he should remain. He finally consented to stay in the case. It is generally believed that the Court will do what is right. The defendants filed an affidavit asking for a continuance of the case, which was granted. The trial was set for yesterday (Thursday), and it was expected that it would certainly begin as soon as the Court convened. Since the adjournment of Court on Tuesday, Col. W. O. Welch and Judge M. C. Sanley, of Stanford, have been employed for the prosecution. They came up Wednesday evening. The horrible murder of Mary Sigman and her mother, and the consequent trial of these parties are the all-absorbing topics among our people who are determined that the affair shall be fully investigated.

LITTLE PERSONAL.—We neglected to mention in our last issue the arrival of another boy at Elder Jos. Ballou's. It is the proudest child of a youngster.

MR. B. K. WARREN has a new lot of beautiful and genuine Oil Paintings in gilt frames which he sells very low. Also the best and prettiest Chromos, Cabinet Photographs, Frames, etc.

THIS is absolutely the dullest week we have ever experienced in Stanford. Not a single thing has happened worthy of note, and the farmers being busy, the streets have presented a very deserted air.

POSTMASTER ALFORD is "held" for postage. That is his window is full of letters that are. It is curious to look at them. Some have a cent stamp on them, others stamps that have been cancelled, and still others that are short of postage. And still the senders appear to be persons of ordinary sense.

MR. H. C. KAUFFMAN, present incumbent, is a candidate for re-election to the office of County Attorney of Garrard. He has filled the position for the last four years with much satisfaction to the people and credit to himself, and a re-election would be but an expression of appreciation of his services.

THE Court-house square is kept in a wretched condition, whereas with just a little trouble and hardly no expense, it might be made an ornament to the town. In the first place it needs cleaning up badly. Then grass seed should be sown on it, and nice young trees set out. It would also be a good idea to secure it against horse, which not only tramples against horse, but are frequently seen promiscuously in the Court-house.

THIS Rink will be opened to-night promptly at 7 o'clock.

SEED Irish potatoes at McAlister & Bright's; $1.25 per bushel.

PLENTY of Fish and Oysters at J. T. Harris' next Saturday evening.

GARDENING has commenced in earnest. It would be just as well, however, to wait a month.

THIS is St. Patrick's day, and as such will be celebrated wherever there are enough Irish to form a procession.

PARTIES feeding corn can be supplied at Lincoln Mills at any time with any amount from a bushel to 100 barrels, from $4 to $4.25 per barrel.

We can't wait on those who are indebted to us any longer, and intend putting their accounts in the hands of an officer if not settled immediately. B. Mattingly & Son.

DIVORCE.—Another suit for divorce has been entered: Mrs. Eliza vs. Thomas Gary, Cause, abandonment. Mrs. Gary was some six months ago declared a lunatic and sent to the Asylum, but she recovered and on her return sought again the bed and board of her hiege lord, when he would have nothing to do with her. Hence the suit.

A SPOONFUL case of lunacy was tried before Judge Brown and jury, Wednesday. The woman, Rebecca Chesney, was cook for George Saunders before his arrest and trial, and was a witness in the case. It seems that she was threatened, or imagined she was, with death, and her great fear seems to be that the K-K-K will take her at night and kill her. During the day she is perfectly docile, but at night she raves and exhibits the most intense terror. The jury pronounced her insane and ordered her to be taken to the Asylum.

KENTUCKY REAL ESTATE JOURNAL.—This office is getting out a neat little paper with the above title. It is owned and edited by the firm of W. S. Francis & Co., which is composed of Mr. Francis, of Louisville, and W. H. Miller, of Stanford, and they advertise more than a hundred farms in this, Casey and Pulaski counties for sale. They are attracting many immigrants to this section and thereby enhancing the value of our excellent lands. Those wishing to sell or buy can not do better than to address them as above.

THERE are 333 cases on the docket of the Circuit Court, which commences Monday next, and they are divided as follows: Commonwealth, 121; Equity Appeals, 13; Motions, 6; Common Law, 40; Common Law Appeals, 22; Old Equity, 131. Most of the Commonwealth cases are for violations of the whisky laws, but four are for murder: S. B. Conn, for killing McCoy, in Garrard county; Gresham and Reid, for killing Cam Rowsey; J. W. Gooch, for killing Constable Killian, and James Mullins for killing another negro. The term can last four weeks.

MARRIAGES.

—Miss Bettie Moran, lately of Madison, but who, with her mother and family have been traveling in the West for some years, was married at Oakland, California, last Thursday, to Mr. T. S. Burnam, of Richmond, Ky. Miss Bettie is a most lovely representative of her sex, both in personal and mental charms.

—A year or two ago Dr. Lewis, of Louisville, addressed a letter to Miss Julia Cox, of Eminence, and although unacquainted with her, asked the pleasure of a correspondence. Miss Cox complied with his request, and from spooney letters, they came to know each other and to enjoy all those little nick-nacks, such as kissing and hugging, so prized by lovers. He continued to write her letters, and at last the happy day was named. Then, when certain of his prize, he began to grow weary of it, and finally asked to be let off entirely. Miss Cox was not to be gotten rid of in that manner, so she brought suit against the mashing son-of-a-baw-bones for $10,000 in the Chancery Court of Louisville. The case was heard this week, when a large number of the Doctor's letters were put up as evidence. They were exceedingly love sick, but the large crowd that the trial drew to the C. H. enjoyed them hugely. Wednesday the case was submitted, and the jury, after a short retirement, brought in a verdict for $3,000 damages. The case will go to the Court of Appeals, and in the meantime the Dr. will cogitate over the very dangerous past time of trying to play the masher. Let imitators take warning.

RELIGIOUS.

—Rev. J. M. Bruce will preach at Preachersville, next Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

—So far about 950 conversions are reported at St. Paul's M. E. Church. The meetings continue with unabated interest. Harrison, the "boy preacher," is conducting them.

—We were present at the "jug breaking" of the little Missionary workers of the Presbyterian Church, which occurred at Mr. E. R. Chenault's, Wednesday evening. After a prayer by Mr. Elroy, the breaking commenced, during which he amused the little fellows with appropriate anecdotes. The first jug broken was Kate Alcorn's, and it contained $2.11; Willie Craig's $1.15; Willie B. and George Barnes Wear, $1.00; Johnnie Chenault $1.00; Mary Craig, 51 cents; Martha Paxton, 33 cents; Dolly McRoberts, $1.00; Leslie Wilson, $2.10; Annie and Charlie Green, $1.75; Jennie Wear, $1.70; Fokie and Eph. Pennington, $1.55; Jack Rout, $1.90; Marie Warren, $1.35; Hallie Chenault, $4.25; Cabell Owens, $1; the Helping Hand, $12.60; making in all $38.41. Quite a large sum for children not over ten years to raise for the Missionary cause. The jug breaking over, the little ones were invited to a nice table of good things that Mrs. Chenault had prepared, and when we left they were enjoying themselves with all the zest that whetted appetites could give.

—BIBLE DOCTRINE OF HEIL.—This is the title of a tract of 62 pages written by Morris Evans, D. D., of Richmond, Ky. The character of the writer assures us that the work is worthy of a careful reading. The author evinces considerable scholarship and research in its compilation. Prominent among the points discussed we mention the following: Teaching of Greek and Roman Mythology, Doctrine held by Theologians, Bible teaching. Under this head he presents a number of texts from which, according to his exegesis, he concludes, that if there be future retribution it is a state rather than a place, and leaves the reader to infer that he holds to the doctrine of final restoration. Dr. Evans handles the subject in a bold and fearless manner. There is nothing in the workavoring of the spirit of sect or party. His definition of Salvation is unique and scriptural, emphasizing the doctrine of Salvation from sin, rather than Salvation from Hell. In all the work is an ingenious presentation of what he honestly conceives, no doubt, after years of painstaking research, to be taught in the word of God. After presenting quite a number of what he is pleased to call, "The absurdities of our Jovine Theology," he concludes, "The Hell appeal is to the base principle of cowardice. The call to a noble Godlike character is many and glorious. This last is Christian; the other heathen. God appeals to our higher nature. He proposes to develop that. So must that teacher of his law who proposes to take the Holy Scriptures alone as the Man of his Counsel." This book is for sale by McRoberts & Stagg, at 25 cents.

LINCOLN COUNTY.

—A hop to-night at the Merston House.

—What about the machine shops? We have heard nothing about them for some time.

—Have you solved the riddle? It is now heard on all sides; most of the answers are in the negative, however.

—There were parties here last week from Cincinnati looking at the Crab Orchard Springs with a view to buying them.

—Our little paragraph last week in regard to Dr. Lewis having rented property was a "mistake," as one of our kinsmen has kindly explained.

—The men and small boys of our little village angle in the ponds at the Springs with much success. Dr. Doores caught a newt a few days ago that measured 13 inches.

—Messrs. W. F. Kennedy and Ray Moss are in Texas looking for locations. Aug. Lindemann, a polite salesman of D. H. Baldwin & Co., of Louisville, was here last week selling pianos.

—Mr. Daniel Barker, of this place, died Saturday night, at 8 o'clock, in the 37th year of his age. The deceased was born in New York State and raised in Michigan, and came to this place several months ago from Louisville. Those who knew him best speak of him as being noble and generous in all dealings with his fellowmen.

GARRARD COUNTY.

—I will take $2.50 for my chance for Bruce, Warren & Co.'s prize on the Rube.

—Prof. Claggett has been compelled by his bad health to close his school at this place.

—The Attorneys of Wm. Austin filed their exceptions in the case at a called term of the Court, Monday 13th inst. The habeas corpus writ was issued on grounds of the Judges failure to sign an order in the case, but Austin was remanded.

—Married, March 15th, Mr. Jas. Literal to Mrs. S. E. Ray, all of the Buckeye neighborhood. On the same day, Mr. M. Lynch, of Washington county, to Miss Lee N. Green, of this county. The abandoned wife of Robt. Willis has returned to her father's.

—Mrs. A. G. Daniel and daughter, Miss Minnie, of Atlanta, Ga., with Miss Jennings, of Alabama, are visiting relations here. Mrs. F. O. Young has returned from a visit to Lexington. Miss Mamie McRoberts, of Lincoln, returned home Thursday, from a visit to Miss Lizzie Huffman. Jo Hicks will move to Danville this week to take the position of foreman in the Planing Mills there. Mrs. Mag. Dunn has returned to Henderson.

PULASKI COUNTY.

Eubanks Station.

—A debating society was organized here last week; meets every Tuesday night.

—Frank Kattfeldon, of Penna., bought of Geo. Brewer, his farm of 80 acres 1 mile east of this place, for $300.

—A falling tree struck W. E. Perkins a few days ago, knocking him senseless, and at last accounts he was very low.

—J. C. Durham's school at this place continues to grow in interest. About 40 pupils are now in attendance, and an assistant teacher is kept busy hearing the minor classes.

—A calf belonging to E. S. Gooch was run into by a freight train, the other day and taken upon the pilot where it rode into town, and when discovered showed no sign of injury.

—If the readers of the INTERIOR JOURNAL would know the price of a cow in this vicinity, let them inquire of Dr. Wm. Baker, as he has lately had some valuable experience in the cow trade.

—Three young men whose names I have not learned and who it is said were under the influence of strong drink, jumped off the freight train as it was passing here Saturday night, and one of them was severely hurt. He had a tooth knocked out and others shattered, a hole cut in his upper lip, another in his head and shoulders besides being bruised almost beyond recognition. So much for stealing a ride.

—Preaching here every Saturday and Sunday by Rev. Wm. Tyree. Sunday-school at Cuba every Sunday morning. Rev. W. T. Tyree is preaching at Pleasant Point near Tunnel City. The result of the meeting up to Sunday was 16 additions to the church. This makes 204 confessions under Rev. Tyree's preaching at this place, Double Springs and Pleasant Point. PRAISE THE LORD. Preaching at Double Springs Saturday and Sunday by Rev. Wm. Tyree.

—Miss Mattie Carson, of whose illness we spoke in our last, was buried here a few days ago. Miss Mattie was beautiful, kind and affectionate to those of her associates who could reciprocate her love, and while her body, surrounded by her schoolmates, was lowered to its last resting place within its silent vault, prayers went up from weeping friends, pleading to meet the loved and departed Mattie in that world where separations are not known.

—W. H. Todd, of Montague, Texas, is visiting friends in this community. J. W. Cundiff and family left Tuesday for Ohio, from whence they came about one year ago. We dislike to give up such men as Mr. Cundiff, but as he goes our wishes for his success follow him. Joseph Wright, the "boss" mill man, was here Monday. J. M. Smith, of Lexington, is here introducing a patent riding cross-cut saw. Wm. Liston is off for Cincinnati this week. S. Henderson is at home with his family this week. Steve's many friends here are always ready to greet him back.

—Mr. John Wesley, father of Dr. J. Y. Wesley, has lately bought the property formerly occupied by O. D. Jasper, and moved to it. J. A. Bryant will start with his family in a few days to California, where he will make his future home. O. D. Jasper and wife started today to Illinois, where they propose to live the remainder of their days. Mrs. McDowell Jones, who has been very low with typhoid fever, is getting well.

—We have a multiplicity of candidates in this county for the different county offices, a very large number of whom want "the office of Senator," while but very few want to be Sheriff. A large majority of those already announced are Democrats, and it is high time that the County Committee had adopted some plan to nominate a ticket. The Committee has heretofore treated this matter with a great deal of indifference, and the party has suffered accordingly. Let something be done immediately.

Liberty.

—Last Tuesday's INTERIOR JOURNAL reached here on Friday, and Friday's paper came in on Saturday.

—All of the finest hickory timber in this county is being made into spokes and sold at $8 per thousand at the stump.

—Mumps have been raging around this place for the last two months, and some of our young folks are having a serious time with them. All is well that ends well.

—Four of our most handsome young men attended the supper and tournament at Hustonville, last Friday night. They pronounce the supper first-class in every respect, and are extravagant in their compliments of the young lady waiters.
